Ex-Kaiser Not Authorized To Return To Germany; Holland Expected To Bar Hohenzollern's Departure

Forbes Denies Every Charge

WASHINGTON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—A "denial" to encompass my destruction by means of perjury, subornation of perjury and the suppression of material facts and documents," was charged by Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans Bureau, in testimony today before the senate veterans' committee.

Taking the stand in his own defense before a crowded committee room, the former director, entered a "general, sweeping and absolute denial" of charges made by other witnesses affecting upon his honesty.

The denial was followed, the witness said, against "every charge, statement, innuendo and insinuation which in any manner whatsoever reflects upon the honesty and integrity of any official or personal conduct while I occupied the office of director of the Veterans Bureau."

Most of the deficiencies in the administration of the laws providing for relief to disabled veterans, he declared "had been due to politics and money."

He was referring to Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal friend and physician of the late president Harding, who is charged with having then flatly denied the statement made before the committee by the Sawyer that he was dismissed by President Harding for insubordination in connection with the sale of surplus property at Perryville, Md.

"Long before the president finally decided to issue his second temporary order stopping the delivery of goods at Perryville," the former director said, "I told the president that I could not continue to serve if General Sawyer was to continue in my office and if he became simply a 'choice between Sawyer and myself, and I refused the president of any possible."

Coolidge Says It's Step For Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Without committing himself either to approval or disapproval of the treasury revision program, President Coolidge today let it be known that he favors the proposal as a step toward making the way for meeting the demand of the country for lower taxes.

Ohioan Killed By Bandits

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—A man was shot and killed here early this morning by two bandits as he was driving towards Los Angeles from a suburb, with his brother, Edward Nagle, a Culver City real estate man who was slightly wounded.

The bandits obtained $500, the proceeds of an American Legion carnival held at Culver City.

The bandits fired three shots while driving after trailing the Nagle from the carnival grounds into Los Angeles, according to the police.

"Hands Off" In Germany U.S. Policy, Says Coolidge

WASHINGTON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge believes the traditional policy of the American government would preclude it from joining with the allied governments in protesting to Germany against the return of Crown Prince Frederick William or his father, the former emperor, or in measures to prevent the re-establishment of the monarchy.

The chief executive feels that the United States should abide by its long established tenet, that any nation is within its right in establishing whatever form of government it desires.

The allied governments, in view of officials here, have a right and a duty under the treaty of Versailles to protect and take such measures as they deem desirable. The United States need not be a party to the treaty, is under no such obligations.

Move For Parley At End

WASHINGTON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Although the door still is open for American helplessness in the reparations problem, President Coolidge regards the "att move in that direction as having one definitely to an end."

The United States would find itself unable, in the view of the president, to participate in the reparations inquiry proposed by President Torgler or the same reason that it declined to enter the investigation suggested by Great Britain. This reason is that the American government considers it useless and futile to make an inquiry which is hedged about by restrictions as to its scope.

Michigan Grads Blamed

CHICAGO, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Charges that the old grads bring liquor to fraternities houses of colleges and universities are made by Julius Beal, regent of the University of Michigan, here attending the meeting of the governing board members of state educational institutions.

"The alumni is the principal cause for intemperance in our colleges, which is now one of the imperative problems that confront us," Mr. Beal said. "It brings liquor to the campus on gala days. The impressionable young student, always looking upon the alumni as a sort of godparent and consequently accepts the invitation of the old grad to have a little drink as a virtual command."

"I believe the best way is to appeal to the honor of the student body and alumni on the moral issue. In Michigan the fraternities are writing circular letters to their alumni, urging them to refrain from such violations. This should prove effective."

Columbus Seeks Eastern Time

COLUMBUS, O., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—City Clerk Harry S. Turner will today communicate the request of council that Columbus be placed in the eastern time zone, to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A resolution providing for this action was adopted last night in line with the majority given by voters last week favoring eastern time.

Donahey Orders Probe At Steubenville

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—(By Associated Press)—Governor Donahey today ordered Attorney General Crabbe to begin at once a special grand jury investigation of law enforcement and of conditions in Steubenville and Jefferson county. This action followed the lodging of charges with the governor by Attorney Lee Van Tilberg and a committee of Jefferson county citizens.

In ordering the attorney general to take action, Governor Donahey said that if allegations made in the complaint filed with him are true, that "the administration of justice in Jefferson county has practically broken down."

The governor's communication declares that information which has come to his office is that lives of prohibition agents in Jefferson county are in constant danger and recites that one agent was murdered, another shot and the home of a third dynamited without a single prosecution.

Fire Sweeps Ohio Town

MOGADORE, O., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire which last night swept this village left the business section virtually a mass of ruins, most of the principal buildings and stores having been destroyed.

Loss is estimated at $200,000. Buildings destroyed included the B. C. Atwood Department Store, Eagle Hall, Sons of Veterans Hall and a residence. The city offices and jail were in the Sons of Veterans Hall. Eagle Hall was occupied by the John K. Meyer grocery. Walter Mathias butcher shop and Shinner bakery. The fire is believed to have started in the bakery from an overheated stove.

Powers Troubled Over Greek Snarl

LONDON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Ministerial circles in London are without definite news of the uncertain political situation in Greece at the present moment, but they view with much anxiety the unofficial reports that King George probably will be forced to leave the country so as to permit the establishment of a republic.

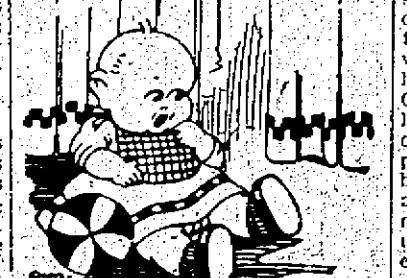

Great Britain, like the United States, has financial claims against Greece and it is felt that the proclamation of a republic amid such chaotic conditions as now prevail would make the payment of these claims or even the interest on them remote.

The United States advanced to Greece $15,000,000 under the "liberty bond act," and the interest on this amount to date totals almost an entire million. While the London government, like that at Washington, has withheld its recognition of King George, who inherited a legacy from the late King Constantine, it has warmly endorsed the young monarch's neutrality throughout the fierce party strife in Greece and his efforts to establish his country in the good opinion of the world.

It is recognized that George has been little more than a harmless adornment to the throne since his father's death, but little hope is entertained that the establishment of a republic would bring anything like peace or order.

Lloyd George And Asquith Bury The Hatchet; Election Called

LONDON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Dissolution of parliament before the coming week-end was forecast by Prime Minister Baldwin at the opening of the new session today. He announced he had advised the crown to dissolve parliament as quickly as possible and he did not see why the date should not be next Friday.

The premier made only a brief statement in which he said a general election was always a disturbing element and should be gotten through with as quickly as possible.

A general election will be held December 5.

The Asquith and Lloyd George factions of the liberal party sank their differences this morning and reunited to present a solid front against the conservative protectionists as well as the labor party in the election.

The Evening News states that Mr. Asquith will lead the reunited party. It is recalled that Mr. Lloyd George, in answering interviewers' questions at Southampton "from his American visit last week," said he would work with anybody who would serve the country faithfully.

The reconciliation was effected at a meeting of former Premiers Asquith and Lloyd George, Sir Alfred Mond and Sir John Simon.

Arrangements were made for a united campaign by all the liberals. There had been a great element of doubt as to whether the two bitter political antagonists, Asquith and Lloyd George, could be brought together. Therefore the announcement.

Johnson, McAdoo, Adams, In Parleys

CHICAGO, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Political observers attached importance to the visits here of Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, William Gibbs McAdoo and John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee. Although none of them made any statement, each engaged in a series of conferences with local leaders and greeted numerous callers.

In some quarters the opinion was expressed that Senator Johnson's stay here might be prolonged a week and that shortly he would announce his decision as to whether he would become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Mr. Johnson was reported as desiring full information on the Illinois political situation.

Mr. McAdoo, accompanied by his wife, will leave tonight for California.

Chairman Adams yesterday conferred with Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican committee, who has expressed the belief that the Republican National Convention will be brought to Chicago. Discussion of that subject was postponed until Thursday night, a subcommittee of the national committee meets in Washington, it was said.

Senator Johnson was the only one of the three visitors who did not comment on former President Wilson's Armistice Day speech. The California senator said he had not read the speech. Chairman Adams said the former president is still the leading Democrat of the country, and he will have more to say than any other man in formulating the next Democratic platform. "What he has to offer at this time is of great interest."

Mr. McAdoo said the former president has again voiced the confidence and noble spirit of America.

Mellon's Tax Cut Plan Stirs Up Rumpus

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1923, by The Times.)
WASHINGTON, November 13.—Republican leaders in Congress do not share Secretary Mellon's ideas about reduction of taxes. Senator Smoot, chairman of the Finance Committee, of the Senate said today he had not changed his mind about the coming session of Congress. House leaders including Chairman Green of the Ways and Means Committee, are represented as believing also that it would be impolite to open the tax question this year.

Secretary Mellon's pronouncement, however, carries with it the implication that President Coolidge stands behind him. Otherwise the President will be in the position of ignoring publicly the statement of policy of his Secretary of the Treasury. Some administration leaders think Mr. Mellon will merely refer to Secretary Mellon's proposals in the forthcoming address to Congress but will not press for tax revision subsequently.

There is no doubt that taxes could be reduced if the administration wants to avoid paying a bonus to the ex-service men and if the radicals in Congress did not produce a stalemate by proposing changes in the revenue law to which the conservative elements would under no circumstances agree. Already there is talk from radical quarters about reimposing the excess profits taxes and putting up higher than at present the rate on surtaxes for the wealthy.

One of the awkward phases of the situation which drew some common sense from Mellon himself is one of the wealthiest men in America and would benefit by a reduction of surtaxes. On the other hand Mr. Mellon's philosophy is that unless large amounts of capital held by the wealthy can be put into productive channels, it will be invested in tax exempt securities and the nation's economic development which depends always on the unrestricted flow of capital to new enterprises would be retarded.

Bandits Rob Bank

YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Three bandits held up the Elm Street branch of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company here today, bound the teller, and escaped with about $2,000 in cash.

The robbers headed north from Youngstown in an automobile.

Vernon Williams, the teller, who was alone in the bank said that the three asked for change for a $10 bill. As he reached for the change he said all three drew revolvers and told him to throw up his hands. When he complied they took him into a back room and bound him, searching his clothes and taking a gold watch and some money. Then Williams said, they rifled the money drawers and escaped. A depositor came in ten minutes later and released Williams.

Jump To Safety

CLEVELAND, O., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—One man was in a critical condition from asphyxiation suffered when two workers were forced to leap down a flight of stairs or jump from the windows in a fire which destroyed the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad Y. M. C. A. here today.

Two others were injured less seriously by jumping from windows when flames wrapped the building. Earl Stanley, engineer of Canton, O., was in a rear sleeping room when the fire broke out. He could not be reached by the other railroaders. He was taken from his blazing bed by firemen and carried, unconscious, down a ladder and removed to a hospital.

Byron Yoder was cut about the arms and bruised severely in jumping from a window when flames cut off his escape.

A C. W. Ott suffered a sprained knee in his leap to safety. Ott and Yoder both live in Canton.

CINCINNATI, O., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—A couple who said they were Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Painter, were given money last night by the Norwood, O. Community Service to reach their home in Newark. Mrs. Painter declared she had lived with a relative, and that she had gone to Covington, Ky., with Painter and was married to him. As they had no funds, they had started to walk to Newark.

J. D. of Europe Powers To Insist Ex-Ruler Be Held

BERLIN, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—It is officially denied here that former Emperor William has been authorized to return to Germany.

Denial was also made of a report that former Crown Prince Frederick William visited Berlin secretly on his way from Holland to his estate in Upper Silesia. Frederick William stayed Saturday night at Holsheim, Sunday night at Grossplaten in Mersingen and last night with friends in the province of Brandenburg. He is expected to arrive at Oels today. The visit to Berlin of Premier Von Kulling of the Bavarian Government, has been postponed.

Holland Expected To Balk Kaiser

LONDON, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—British government officials reiterated today that they were entirely satisfied with the adequacy of the assurances given by Holland that ex-Emperor William would not be allowed to leave Dutch custody. They say that up to the moment they have no reason to suppose the former war lord proposes to desert, and if he has such an intention they are confident the Dutch government will frustrate the attempt. No new representations, therefore, have been made to Holland.

BERLIN, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Former Crown Prince Frederick William arrived at his estate at Oels, Upper Silesia at 6 o'clock this morning, a message from Oels announces.

BERLIN, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The German government will proclaim an autonomous Rhineland state in the immediate future, it was stated on good authority here this afternoon.

Ex-Kaiser Commanding Attention

BRUSSELS, November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—William Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, was again a figure commanding world attention today as the governments of the powers made efforts to learn more of his reported plans for returning to the Fatherland.

Equipped with passports for himself and members of his suite, he is said by a local newspaper to be prepared to establish either himself or his son, former Crown Prince Frederick William, on the throne of the empire on December 4.

There was no official confirmation of the activities at Doorn House nor was William's destination in Germany suggested. Private messages from the little Dutch village, however, say that a courier yesterday delivered there twelve passports permitting the ex-kaiser and his entourage to re-enter.

Whiskey Bandits Make Big Seizure

BALTIMORE, MD., November 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Armed whiskey bandits, numbering about 25, early today raided the Gwynnbrook distillery at Gwynnbrook, a suburb of Baltimore, and are reported to have secured about five large truck loads of whiskey. State police, city police and police of Baltimore county, in which the distillery is located, have formed a cordon on important roads leading from Baltimore to try and apprehend the men.

Four government guards at the distillery were overpowered. The men first tied up two guards on the outside of the distillery and gaining entrance tied up the other two. All four were then handcuffed together in a circle.

The men gained entrance to the place about 1:30 o'clock and it was about 3:00 o'clock before they finished loading and started away. The bandit guards made their way to the home of a neighbor and gave the alarm. Two large touring cars were said to have accompanied the trucks.

While this robbery was going on government agents were escorting sixteen truck loads of about 4,500 cases of whiskey from near Frederick, Md., to Baltimore. The whiskey is bound to a concentration warehouse here on government order and is coming from the HERSHEY distillery near Frederick. Fifteen armed guards in four big touring cars are guarding the liquor. Bootleggers' shrewdly knowing of the activity of government agents in the vicinity of the shipment of the city, took a chance and raided the distillery in the northern suburbs.

Police shortly after 5:00 o'clock captured two drivers and three truck loads of stolen whiskey near Towson, about ten miles away from the hold-up.

Other preservatives, put up in solutions neither decidedly acid nor alkaline are susceptible to the botulism germs, he said.

Royal Arch Masons Name Officers

At the annual election of officers, those elected were: John King, H. P.; D. H. Thomas, King; W. A. Cook, Scribe; C. W. Kugelman, O. of H.; Frank M. Baggis, E. S.; W. D. Ho, Treasurer; John A. Ives, Secretary, and A. A. Oakes, R. A. C. William West was elected Master of the Third Vell.

The charge was that they had violated a city ordinance which pertains to the unlawful congregation of persons in public places.

The motion to quash the affidavit was filed by attorneys for the defense, Luther Thompson, Edgar Miller, Blair and Blair last Saturday. They set forth in their motion five separate reasons why the affidavit against Mr. Goddard and others should be dismissed.

The motion was sustained on the strength of the fourth reason, which was as follows: "Said affidavit fails to set forth the names of the persons who are alleged to have been annoyed by the congregation of defendant and others."

The municipal court room was packed and jammed by men and women interested in the outcome of the case, which has been hanging fire for several weeks.

The motion was to have been heard this morning at 10 o'clock, and a large number of persons was present along with the chief defendant, Mr. Goddard, and attorneys for the defense.

Johnson was busy in common parlance when it was found that he could not reach municipal court by noon the case was again postponed until 1 o'clock.

The charges against the Klan were the result of a Klan demonstration on the Hilltop Sunday, October 28, when the Klan marched to the new First Lutheran church, where they were to attend a cornerstone laying.

On the way to the church the police took charge of the marchers and marched them all to the police station, where all in line were registered. Later when it was seen that it would be a big task to try each person as a separate case, it was decided to make a test case by filing a charge against one of the number, J. A. Goddard, Seventeenth street.

Action of the court this afternoon settles the case as far as the present charge is concerned.

Court House
Appellate Court Convened, Adjourns
It required the Court of Appeals, with Judge William H. Middleton, Edwin D. Swartz and Roscoe J. Manek on the bench, only a few minutes this morning to convene and adjourn the November term of court here.

The court was in session less than thirty minutes and quickly disposed of the one case on the docket, that of Joseph Burgess against State of Ohio, which was dismissed on the motion of Attorney A. R. Campbell for Burgess, who sought to prosecute error from his conviction by a Common Pleas Court and his sentence to the Reformatory on a charge of robbery several months ago. He is now serving his sentence at the Mansfield institution.

The exceedingly light docket which greeted the court here was the subject of comment by the judges and attorneys all of whom joined in declaring it was a record for Scioto county which in former years presented heavy dockets every term which in most cases required a least a week to hear.

Presiding judge Middleton stated that the small docket here was in striking contrast to the Lawrence county docket at the term last week which contained twenty-five cases of which twenty-two were submitted.

Harry B. Green, of Chillicothe, official stenographer, who accompanied the court here, left with the judges this afternoon for home.

The municipal court room was packed and jammed by men and women interested in the outcome of the case, which has been hanging fire for several weeks.

The motion was to have been heard this morning at 10 o'clock, and a large number of persons was present along with the chief defendant, Mr. Goddard, and attorneys for the defense.

Johnson was busy in common parlance when it was found that he could not reach municipal court by noon the case was again postponed until 1 o'clock.

The charges against the Klan were the result of a Klan demonstration on the Hilltop Sunday, October 28, when the Klan marched to the new First Lutheran church, where they were to attend a cornerstone laying.

On the way to the church the police took charge of the marchers and marched them all to the police station, where all in line were registered. Later when it was seen that it would be a big task to try each person as a separate case, it was decided to make a test case by filing a charge against one of the number, J. A. Goddard, Seventeenth street.

Action of the court this afternoon settles the case as far as the present charge is concerned.

Damage Slight
A blaze, thought to have originated from an overheated boiler, which was discovered in the barber shop conducted by W. P. Salvers, on Waller street, in the rear of the Miller drug store shortly after 10 o'clock, was quickly suppressed by the fire equipment, which responded to an alarm. The wall near the heater had ignited but the damage was slight.

Shumate Injured
Fred Shumate is laid up at his home, 950 Front street with two broken ribs. He was injured several days ago at Buena Vista where he was working on William Morrison's gasoline towboat, which was left high and dry on the river bank by a sudden drop in the river. Shumate was helping "hook up" the boat when he fell. R. L. Shumate, assistant fire chief, went to Buena Vista yesterday and returned his brother to this city.

Court House
Appellate Court Convened, Adjourns
It required the Court of Appeals, with Judge William H. Middleton, Edwin D. Swartz and Roscoe J. Manek on the bench, only a few minutes this morning to convene and adjourn the November term of court here.

The court was in session less than thirty minutes and quickly disposed of the one case on the docket, that of Joseph Burgess against State of Ohio, which was dismissed on the motion of Attorney A. R. Campbell for Burgess, who sought to prosecute error from his conviction by a Common Pleas Court and his sentence to the Reformatory on a charge of robbery several months ago. He is now serving his sentence at the Mansfield institution.

The exceedingly light docket which greeted the court here was the subject of comment by the judges and attorneys all of whom joined in declaring it was a record for Scioto county which in former years presented heavy dockets every term which in most cases required a least a week to hear.

Presiding judge Middleton stated that the small docket here was in striking contrast to the Lawrence county docket at the term last week which contained twenty-five cases of which twenty-two were submitted.

Harry B. Green, of Chillicothe, official stenographer, who accompanied the court here, left with the judges this afternoon for home.

"Walton Secured $48,000 Residence on Notes"

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Nov. 12. (By the A. P.)—Financial transactions by which Gov. J. C. Walton acquired a $48,000 residence here last May, involving a canvass of wealthy men of the state in an effort to dispose of six $8,000 notes which the Executive gave to Walter D. Caldwell, the owner of the property, were detailed before the Senate Court here today in the Governor's impeachment trial.

In purchasing the residence, Gov. Walton paid Caldwell, a local oil man, $18,000 cash and gave him notes for the balance. These notes were sold to D. W. Marland, president of the Marland Oil and Refining Company, at Ponca City. The Governor is charged in the impeachment bill with thereby obligating himself to Marland, who is described as owning "several millions of dollars of taxable property" in Oklahoma. The bill charges that the transaction was "wholly corrupt" in that the Governor is chairman of the state board of equalization which assesses property in the state.

Would Be "End of It." C. J. Wrightman, wealthy Tulsa oil man, testified that he declined emphatically to purchase three of the notes. After he had already contributed more than $12,000 to Walton's campaign expenses, he declared, "I did not consider it a good business proposition." Wrightman declared.

Answering another question, Wrightman said he understood his taking the notes "would have been the end of it."

Dr. E. T. Bynum, former confidante of Gov. Walton, told of a trip he made to Ponca City to confer with Marland regarding the financing of the Executive Mansion purchase.

Marland, he said, recommended the purchase of a less expensive home and offered to advise the Governor in the purchase of stock "so the Governor could make the money himself." The witness said that when

Mr. Snyder of the Portsmouth Banking Company, was in Columbus as one of Ohio's new deputy registrars of automobiles, appointed by Secretary of State Thad D. Brown under authority of the Knapp act, passed by the last general assembly. They were in session Saturday at the House of Representatives, where they received instructions in their work.

Every county has at least one deputy and the more populous and also the more accessible counties have additional deputies located at various municipal centers. The work of issuing 1924 licenses will begin on Nov. 20.

Secretary of State Brown welcomed the deputies and outlined the statute under which they were named and sketched the history of the automobile licensing department with its vast increase in business.

"It has grown into a tremendous business," he declared, "and the point of saturation has not yet been reached. The average rate of increase during recent years, not including 1923, has been 17 per cent, and the increase this year, up to Nov. 1, is 27 per cent."

Over Million Mark Total number of licenses issued last year was $88,430 and the revenue derived therefrom amounted to $7,388,002.56, the secretary of state reported, while to date this year the licenses total $1,031,772 and the revenue $9,510,445.20.

He cited the innovation, also, of issuing certificates of registration to applicants as soon as the licenses are issued, thereby preventing much inconvenience and embarrassment to motorists who wish to leave the state soon after obtaining their new licenses. A saving of $10,000 is also effected by this new departure, he noted, heretofore expended for postage in mailing out the certificates.

Mr. Snyder expects a supply of application blanks in a few days. The first shipment of license plates will number 4,000. Over 9,000 tags for touring cars were issued here last year.

An effort is also to be made to issue continuous licenses in Scioto county. Auto owners are urged to get their tags early as the issuing of tags is starting earlier this year, so that everyone can be supplied by January 1st. Secretary of State Brown, however, has no extension of time this year on account of the early date of the start of distribution.

Mr. W. L. Liston, president of the Whitney Medicine Company, left today for Wayne, Ohio, to attend family reunion at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Ormeda E. Brown, who was 81 years of age, on the eighth day of last May. Others at the reunion will include his brother, George Liston, of Hillsboro, Illinois, who was 79 years of age February 10th, and served over four years in the Civil War. He was with Sherman on his "march to the sea" and was captured in 1864, and a sister, Mrs. Sada Monahan, wife of Dr. Monahan, of Dayton, Ohio, who was 65 years of age on August 13th. All are enjoying the best of health and they anticipated a very pleasant time at this remarkable gathering.

W. L. Liston was 76 years old on May 22nd. He served three months in the Civil War and participated in the Lynchburg and Douthett, Virginia, raids at the age of seventeen. Later he contracted typhoid fever and was ill for nine months, after which he was discharged.

Nina, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sagar, who has been in a Cincinnati hospital for treatment for a dislocated hip, is doing nicely, and Mrs. Sagar is expecting to bring her home soon.

Completion of arrangements for the bazaar will be made tomorrow afternoon when groups 2 and 9 of the Trinity Ladies Aid will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. George L. Ulker on Seventh Street.

Mrs. Weston Corson and daughter, Miss Frances, will leave tomorrow for their home in Philadelphia after a visit at the home of Mr. F. M. B. Corson on Fourth Street.

Mrs. H. C. Rugh of Kinney's Lane, Mrs. May Lytle of Washington Street and Mrs. L. H. Goodman, of Second Street, are motoring to Huntington for the day.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me what is meant when a stamp is on a letter with the head turned down.

R. M. M.

It means that it is standing on its head. It also indicates that the person who put it on the letter could not see very well, or did not notice the difference.

Dear Dolly—I have again come to you for advice. I have been keeping company with a young man for almost seven months, and he tells me he cares more for me than he does for any other girl. Dolly, he is very jealous and don't want me to have dates with anyone else, but he talks about taking other girls out driving. Dolly, I am the unhappiest girl that ever lived. I love my steady but I am afraid to tell him so, for some times a man gets a girl after he finds out she is crazy about him. Dolly, would you tell him the truth, and ask him to give up his other girls? Do you think he is treating me right? I am true to him, as I never go anywhere unless he goes along.

BLUE EYES.

You are unhappy because you are taking him too seriously and he looks upon you as one of his conquests. Don't tell him you love him, and don't ask him to give up his other girls for you, as he would probably laugh at you or turn you down altogether. The thing for you to do is to give him a dose of his own medicine, and when he is not with you, go out with some one else. If he cares anything about you, he will be "Johnny-on-the-spot" at all times, and the other men won't have a chance to go with you.

OLD-FASHIONED TEA

FOR CONSTIPATION

Brew It Yourself at Home

Probably the best remedy you can take for clogged up bowels and sluggish liver is one that costs very little and is completely natural.

For many years Dr. Carter's E. and B. Tea has been used by tens of thousands to keep the bowels regular and the complexion clear.

Why not get a 30-cent package of this gentle, yet sure acting, laxative, and get the benefit you get and will praise wholeheartedly in the morning?

You'll surely be gratefully surprised at the benefit you get and will praise wholeheartedly in the morning.

It's time for the little folks and they like it. All druggists sell it.—Advertisement.

THE FOOL
BY CHANNING POLLOCK

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY
Clare Jewell, in love with the Rev. Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons.

"Overcoat Hall," a refuge for the unemployed, is established by Gilchrist. George Goodkind, Jerry's father, calls and orders Daniel to leave the hall, to help Gilchrist.

Pearl Hennig comes in and warns Daniel that her husband is out to lose her.

Henchley to Daniel.
"Yes," followed up his wife. "I wanted to speak to you—about Mr. Henchley's penit."

"Mr. Henchley's what?" asked Daniel curiously.

"Penit," reiterated Mrs. Henchley. "I took out a spot—with gasoline—and hung 'em on the fire escape that runs across from this house, and to-night they was gone, and I think you ought to look into your lodgers."

"I will," said Gilchrist, nodding.

"Good evening, everybody." The others acknowledged the greeting of a tall angular Jewess, a garment worker, but almost scholarly in appearance.

"Good evening, Miss Levinson," said Daniel.

"I've brought back your book," she said, handing a volume to Gilchrist. "What've you been reading?"

"George Bernard Shaw," the girl answered evenly.

"I s'pose you ain't read 'The Shrike'?"

"We've been reading 'Caesar and Cleopatra' together," put in Gilchrist. "That's where we got the quotation on the board. I've jumbled it a bit. He turned to the board and read: 'And so, to the end of history, hate shall breed hate, murder shall breed murder, until the gods create a race that can understand.'"

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT
Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

"That's it, isn't it?" said Miss Levinson. "A race that?"

"A door swung open violently interrupted her. It was Pearl Hennig, breathless."

Daniel turned to her calmly.

"Oh, it's you, Pearl. I thought you'd gone."

"No—I've been watchin' and I've got to speak to you—quick!" She was twitching nervously.

"In just a few minutes," Daniel turned back to Miss Levinson.

"Now," shouted Pearl excitedly. "Joe's out there!"

Mrs. Mulligan resented the disturbance of her doze.

"Aw, shut up!" she blurted.

"Mrs. Mulligan," admonished Gilchrist. "Pearl, you're interrupting—you were saying, Miss Levinson."

"We seem to have hated everything different from ourselves," Miss Levinson went on. "In station, or race, or religion."

Pearl stood by an agitated creature at bay.

"Yes," said Daniel, quite calmly. "It's stupid—and instinctive. I've noticed we're inclined to blame a man for a pig nose if ours is human. Some day we'll get over the idea that all who differ from us are villains and that we should hate each other instead of trying to understand each other. It was on the battlefields that I came to believe a man's life might well be given to teaching and preaching love."

A crash drowned the last word, as a half-brick came hurtling through the window and dropped at Gilchrist's feet. There were screams and a general rush for cover.

Gilchrist alone stood his ground.

"Don't be alarmed," he said easily. "It's only some hoodlum."

"It's Joe!" screamed Pearl. "I seen him in front. That's why I couldn't get out. Somebody go for the police."

There was a general movement toward the door.

"No!" commanded Gilchrist, and they halted.

"He's got other men with him," Pearl pleaded. "Hill kill you!"

The door door slammed. She threw herself against the entrance to the room.

"Here he comes! Don't let him in! Somebody help me!"

"Step aside, Pearl," Daniel commanded. She did so, and George F. Goodkind entered. "It's only Mr. Goodkind," Gilchrist added.

"Yes," said Goodkind, "and your neighbors are calling."

Agitation spread in the little group. They huddled together like sheep in a thunder storm, exchanging frightened glances.

Then came an ominous rumbling. Staccato shouts sounded above the noise of clumping feet.

The door flung open. Reeling, Joe Hennig, stumbling, followed by a muttering mob. At the sight of her husband, Pearl had run to Gilchrist for protection. He put a reassuring arm about her shoulder.

"C'mon, we'll shoot this guy!" Hennig was blustering with a snarl on his face. He looked about the group and then caught sight of Gilchrist and his wife.

"By God," he shouted, "caught in the act! He turned to the herd behind him. 'That's my wife!'"

Gilchrist made no move.

"Caught in what act, Joe?" he asked calmly.

"You—" Hennig's thick tongue and Gilchrist's ease halted him.

"Tell them what we're here for—your hubby," said Daniel.

Grubby moved toward the back-ground.

"I don't want to get in no trouble," he said, evasively.

The stalwart figure of Umanski moved through the crowd. Catching Hennig by the shoulder the Pole forced him to his knees.

"Till you," he shouted at the cowering man.

"Umanski!" protested Gilchrist.

"I tell you, Hennig," went on Umanski. "Mr. Gilchrist been friend to everybody and now when he need friend, nobody knows nothing. Well, I know. I know anybody hurt him gotta lick me."

"No, please—Umanski!" Daniel implored.

Umanski had held a threatening fist above Joe.

"Shall I?" he asked.

"No, no," said Gilchrist and slowly the Pole backed away and Hennig rose to his feet, his bravery restored by rescue.

"I'll show you the kind of folk that's been foolin' you. He got kicked out of the church. He was a spy for the people that live on labor and he came to the mines while we was on strike and ran away with my wife."

"It wasn't him," protested Pearl.

"She says that 'cause she's stuck on him!"

"I ain't!"

"Well, you're workin' for him, ain't you?"

"Your wife's working in a store up-town," said Gilchrist. The remark was received with jeers.

"My wife's workin' Sixth avenue," said Hennig with a sneer for her shame and a touch of self-pity for his own. "She's walkin' the streets!"

"That's a lie," shouted Daniel.

"I heard from a pal she picked up last night."

Gilchrist turned to Pearl expecting to see her head held high in scorn and refutation. Instead he saw it bowed.

"Pearl!" he said, loath to believe. "It's a lie!"

She was sobbing now, softly.

MUSTEROIL
WILL NOT BLISTER

"No," she said, brokenly. "It's true."

The contemptuous rumble of vindication came from the teeing, swaying mob and drowned her weeping.

CHLORIDE XXI

THE bowed head took the taunts and jeers for only a moment. Then Pearl Hennig, with a hardness that was new to her but as old to her kind as self-defense is old, rose and turned jointly on Gilchrist as well as the mob in defiance.

"Yes, it's true," she repeated, bitterly. "Who wouldn't be?" She faced Gilchrist. "I tried to have strength—like you told me—and I had a job—but when the other girls got wise—they ain't no better than I am."

She gave way before his calm, steady gaze.

"Anyways," she said, haltingly, "I lied. I am walkin' the streets. I ain't no good. I ain't fit to live." Slowly she started to sink at his feet. He caught her up.

"Pearl!" he said softly.

She pulled to free herself.

"For Christ's sake, ain't you done with me now?" she said, half protest, half surprise.

"For Christ's sake," said Gilchrist, reverently. "No." He put his arm about her shoulder.

Joe Hennig stirred restlessly on the untidy feet.

"It's all a fake," he shouted. "Ain't you fellows on? He got every rotten woman in the neighborhood workin' for him. Your wives ain't safe. Your kids ain't safe. Ask Tony Malduca."

He turned to a swarthy Italian in the group.

"Didn't he bring your kid in here—and keep her—against her will? Didn't he?"

"That's what he done," said Malduca, sullenly. The mob stirred again. There were rumblings of half-hushed suggestions of violence. Hennig heard them with welcome.

that's been foolin' you. He got kicked out of the church. He was a spy for the people that live on labor and he came to the mines while we was on strike and ran away with my wife."

"It wasn't him," protested Pearl.

"She says that 'cause she's stuck on him!"

"I ain't!"

"Well, you're workin' for him, ain't you?"

"Your wife's working in a store up-town," said Gilchrist. The remark was received with jeers.

"My wife's workin' Sixth avenue," said Hennig with a sneer for her shame and a touch of self-pity for his own. "She's walkin' the streets!"

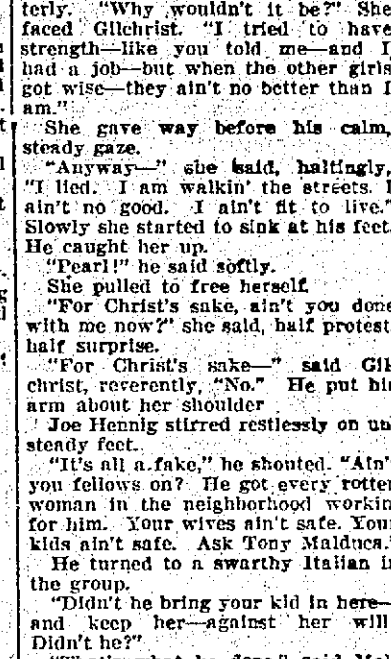

"That's a lie," shouted Daniel.

"I heard from a pal she picked up last night."

Gilchrist turned to Pearl expecting to see her head held high in scorn and refutation. Instead he saw it bowed.

"Pearl!" he said, loath to believe. "It's a lie!"

She was sobbing now, softly.

NEW BOSTON

Mrs. John Pollard, of Pine Creek, visited friends here Monday.

Mrs. Homer Forrest and son, Edward, of Gallia avenue, are spending this week with relatives in Ashland, Ky.

Millbrook Council No. 77, Daughters of America, celebrated "Archie's day" in a most fitting manner last night, when 16 members from while Lily Council, No. 51, of Portsmouth, 15 members from Palmto Council No. 41, of Ironton, 38 members of Millbrook Council No. 77, of New Boston, 1 member from White Rose Council, and Mrs. Nettie Fay, State Council of Ohio, from Springfield, and a class of 22 candidates who were initiated members of Millbrook Council, No. 77.

The degree was exemplified by the team of Millbrook Council in a very creditable manner by the staff of officers and Effie Lochbaum as the efficient captain.

Splendid links on the part of the order by State Councilor Nettie Fay, Springfield, State, Outside Sentinel and District Deputy of No. 7, Mary Hazel Floyd, Councilor of White Lily Council, Margaret Ryan, Effie Lochbaum, Past State officer, Mrs. Thos. D. O'Neil and many of the members of the visiting councils.

At the close of the splendid meeting, a sumptuous banquet was served by the Magdalen and the Jiggs which was in honor of the closing of the contest in raising funds for the Hempstead hospital pledge of the council. $79.90 has been raised in the contest and a silver offering was taken which brought the total of the drive up to $87.50. The banquet was the crowning affair of the night. The tables were decorated in red, white and blue. Place cards contained the National Flag Salute, cut outs of Magdalen and Jiggs, caricatures and Christmas cards. Also on the table were clever cartoons of Magdalen and Jiggs, drawn by Arthur Hied. Much credit is due the Magdalen and Jiggs for the success of the affair and especially for the success of the drive.

Beautiful momentary services were conducted by Captain Effie Lochbaum and her staff of guards for the members of the council, who had passed on to the Great Beyond and in memory of our fallen dead in Flanders fields.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

HALF A CENTURY

Praised by an Oklahoma Who, After His Father's Example, Has Used It, When Needed, for 50 Years.

Grandfield, Okla.—Mr. G. W. Tisdale, a well-known resident of this city, says:

"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught to believe I can safely say for fifty years.

"I was born and reared in Texas, Freestone County, sixty-four years ago. I have been married forty-four years. My father used Black-Draught before I was married, and gave it to us.

"For forty-four years of my married life, I have had a place on my medicine shelf, and it is the only laxative, or liver medicine, we use. We use it for torpid liver, sour stomach, headache, indigestion. I don't think we could get along without it, knowing what it has done for us, and the money it has saved. It is just as good and reliable today as it was when we began its use. My boys use it and they are satisfied it's the best liver medicine they have ever used."

Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, easy to take and acts in a prompt and natural way.

So many thousands of persons have been benefited by the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, you will have no hesitations in trying this valuable old well-established remedy for most liver and stomach disorders.—Advertisement.

In keeping with the general program of Father and Son Week all the men and boys of the U. B. church and Sunday school will meet in the gymnasium at seven o'clock on Friday evening, November 16th. A special committee on "east" and "stunts" is already working hard for one of the finest evenings of fun enjoyed by the men and boys of the church for many months. The meeting will be for all Fathers and Sons as well as for Fatherless Sons and Ladies Dads. The stunt committee promises a great big stunt and a lot of little ones, too, which will go together to make a whole evening of fun for both old and young.

Stoneham Is Re-Elected

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Reports that Charles A. Stoneham, President of New York National League club, was about to retire were set at rest today when he was re-elected unanimously by stockholders to head the organization for another year. Seven directors, including John J. McGraw, manager, and vice president, and Francis X. McQuade, treasurer, also were re-elected.

McGraw, who, with Hugh Jennings, Giant coach is booked to sail today on the George Washington for England. After the business meeting, the Giant pilot confirmed the fact that negotiations with St. Louis for Rogers Hornsby, slugging second sacker had been abandoned, but intimated that a deal with the Cardinals for Jeff Pfeffer, veteran pitcher might be completed.

McGraw and Jennings expect to return early in December.

Had Delightful Trip

PIKETON, Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Patterson, of Little Bear, recently returned from a very interesting trip through the East with their son, Harry R. Patterson, who is employed by one of the largest electrical corporations in the country, with headquarters at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

They started from Piketon on November 1 and went by the way of the National highway to Washington, Pa., where they stopped at the George Washington hotel the first night. The second day they passed the Allegheny mountains and the heart of Maryland, stopping at the Frances Scott Key hotel in Frederick, Md., the second night.

This hotel, which is a million dollar hotel, was built by the citizens of Frederick, which is the birthplace of Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner." Five miles west of Frederick they had the pleasure of viewing the battlefield where the British soldiers under General Braddock were defeated by the combined forces of the French and Indians. General Braddock, who fell in this battle, is buried on the field. Near the battlefield is a large spring where the soldiers of the two armies obtained water during the battle. Frederick is also famous as the birthplace of Barbara Fritchley and Admiral Winfield Scott Schley.

The third day out they left the Allegheny mountains, crossing the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains into Washington, D. C. There they visited the many interesting places, going from Washington to Mt. Vernon, the home of General Washington. They returned to Washington, going from that city to Baltimore, Md., where they stopped at the Emerson hotel. From Baltimore they went to Philadelphia, spending Sunday in that city, and going from there to Newark, N. J., where they stopped at the St. Francis hotel. From Newark they went to New York city, where they spent two days seeing the sights of America's metropolis. Among the interesting places which they visited while in that city were the harbor and Coney Island. While in New York they stopped at the Hotel Pennsylvania, which is one of the largest in the city. They returned home by rail, passing through the

Pinchot Says Government Is Not Using Enforcement Powers

HARRISBURG, Pa., November 13.—If the Federal administration had been using its prohibition enforcement powers as completely as the Pennsylvania state administration has been using its powers, the enforcement question would be troubling no one, either in Harrisburg or Washington, Gov. Pinchot declared in an address before the Pennsylvania State Council of Republican Women here today. The Governor spoke on "Ten Months in Office—A Report of Progress."

The Governor cited what he termed "the three principal promises" in his campaign platform—to "drive all saloons out of the state and to punish bootleggers," to keep the expenses of the state within its income and to reorganize the state government and "get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent."

Gov. Pinchot said that in fulfillment of the first pledge the legislative "under pressure from the administration, passed a law which outlawed the saloon in Pennsylvania."

Two Laws Needed. "Under pressure from the brewing, distilling and bootlegging interests," he added, "it later refused to pass two laws for which the administration asked: one to give control of breweries, the other to give control of distilleries. If these two laws had been enacted our present dependence on national enforcement of the Volstead law would not exist, nor would the present flow of liquor be debauching those of our people whom it does not scandalize."

"It is well within the truth to say that no state administration in America is now making or has ever made as hard a fight for law enforcement as ours is making today."

Cuts Expenses Down. As to the second promise he declared the running of the state government will cost during the current two years but three-quarters of what it cost in the last two years, and he added "so far as I am aware, no such reduction in expenditure has ever been made in any American state."

"There are no more state employees in any department under the governor who is doing no work for the pay they are drawing," he declared, "and so far as these departments are concerned, the political soft snap has vanished."

You'll never go back to the old fashioned pencil or pen

Eversharp for speed, for hard work, for permanent release from common pencil faults. Other pencils seem disappointing, once you have used Eversharp. No other pencil can be like it—for Eversharp's features can't be copied.

Eversharp's perfect balance makes it a comfortable pencil to hold. And it is a pleasing pencil with which to write. The lead never wobbles—the exclusive self-aligning lead arm. You always know the length of lead—the automatic index tells you. And you find extra leads and the handy eraser under the cap. Two Eversharps are useful when you have colored lead in one.

The all-metal Wahl Pen is outstanding among fountain pens. It is a remarkable improvement. It can neither crack nor split. The all-metal barrel holds more ink. Wahl Pen is beautiful, durable. It will last a lifetime.

Buy both matched in gold or silver. Eversharp, $1 to $10; Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices. Look for the name on the pencil and the pen. See also the Wahl rubber pens. $2.50 up.

Local Team Enters Bowling Tourney

Portsmouth will be represented at the Central States Bowling Tournament by at least one club, the Masonic All Stars, picked from the Masonic Bowling League because of the prowess of the players—speaking from an average standpoint. The following players will constitute the Masonic five: O. W. Dondy, Walter, James, Brasier, R. W. Sheridan, Ed W. Leach, and George A. Patton, with Dr. O. D. Tule. Treasurer William E. Critchton sent off the entrance money, $85 Monday. The tourney starts on November 24 and will continue until December 3. The players will pair off as follows in the doubles: Walter and Leach, Sheridan and Patton, Frasier and Tule.

Especially the same personnel of the five represented Portsmouth at the Central States tournament held at Columbus for the past three years, and each year the team has been well up in the money. Last year the club tallied 2790, which was good for $35. The boys hope to do even better this year.

There is a great likelihood that the Selby Bowling League will also be represented by a crack team, in which it is hoped to arrange the schedule which will permit of the two teams bowling on the same shift.

Two Men Held at Vanceburg

VANCEBURG, Ky., Nov. 13.—Two young men giving their names as Warner Myer of Cleveland and Richard Showers of Madison, O., are being held here. Showers is apparently about 20 and Myer about 25. They were arrested by Marshal Simon Scott and Officers Joe Webb and Geo. Sparks, when Constable Henry Warring telephoned that two men had passed Garrison, going in direction of Vanceburg. The boys were driving a 1920 model Chevrolet car with an Ohio license No. 310,663.

Three suit cases were found in the car besides a large number of new articles of clothing and merchandise. City Marshal Simon Scott says.

Lloyd George

The reunion furnished a sensation. MacDonald, leader of the labor party, told a meeting of the labor party and national executive committee today that Prime Minister Baldwin had informed him of his intention of appealing to the country on a policy of unadulterated protection.

Donahey

The officer murdered was Dixie Blinn, in Steubenville last December, while Officer Gibson was shot in the head in Steubenville last August. The home of Officer Charles Dierck of Smithfield, was dynamited last month.

The governor reveals in his letter to the attorney general that on October 6, after a delegation headed by Attorney Van Tilberg had called upon him relative to the complaints, he had written prosecuting Attorney E. Stanton before of Jefferson county, asking if an investigation of the various crimes had been made, but that he has received no reply.

With his order to Attorney General Crabbe directing the grand jury investigation, Governor Donahey enclosed the charges which had been filed with him, which also included allegations of fraudulent voting in the August primary election and lax law enforcement, generally.

Attorney Van Tilberg is counsel for the Jefferson county Ku Klux Klan. The order directing the attorney general to make investigation, says:

"You are directed, therefore, to conduct, or cause to be conducted through special counsel, a special grand jury investigation of the matters referred to in this letter and in the enclosed statement signed by Lee Van Tilberg."

Attorney General Crabbe is expected to order a special grand jury convened immediately in accordance with the executive orders inasmuch as he stated when the charges were filed with the governor that he would await word from the chief executive as to formal complaint and at that time he made to him.

Attorney General Crabbe said this morning that he would send a special investigator to Steubenville within a very few days, and that his office would make a full and complete investigation and familiarize itself with conditions before a special grand jury is called. He said he was unable to say at this time just how soon his investigation would start in Jefferson county or how soon the special grand jury would be called. He indicated, however, that the special grand jury would be called within the comparatively near future.

Forbes

Embarassment by tendering his resignation.

At the outset Forbes read a prepared statement in which he earnestly requested the committee members to question him most searchingly as to all matters within the scope of the investigation and the testimony he had given and of which he was to give.

Conspiracy To Mislead
"I feel that I cannot refrain from expressing to the committee at this time," Forbes said, "my growing belief, finally resulting in conviction on my part, which I expect by the testimony of disinterested witnesses, to establish that an attempt has been made to mislead this committee and that a conspiracy has been on foot, the purpose of which is to encompass my destruction by means of perjury, subornation of perjury, attempted subornation of perjury and the suppression of material facts and documents bearing not only upon my personal conduct as director of the Veterans Bureau but also upon the official conduct of the affairs of the bureau by myself and my subordinates."

"I deny generally and shall hereafter deny specifically and in detail the utterly false and groundless charges of official and personal neglect, dishonesty, graft, liquor drinking, loose conduct and any and every other dereliction of duty, official or personal, which has been ascribed to me either by the witnesses Mortimer and Williams and others, or charged against me by the counsel of this committee."

Not Consciously Guilty
"I do not mean that my administration was blameless. I do not deny its imperfections, but I do deny that I have not consciously been guilty of any wrong doing, either by act or neglect."

"I feel it is only proper to state that I did not seek this position. Among the first difficulties that I encountered was the insistence by General Sawyer of his plan to hospitalize all disabled veterans in the ramshackle and crumbling cantonment buildings throughout the country. I was and always have been actively opposed to this plan, as have practically all other persons who have given any thought and study to the matter, except General Sawyer and his immediate followers."

"I regret that on account of my opposition to such a plan I incurred from the beginning the active hostility of General Sawyer. I feel that I would not be frank with this committee unless I added to this in my honest belief most of the deficiencies in the administration of the laws providing for relief to the disabled veterans whether under the war risk insurance bureau, or the Veterans Bureau or the public health service, or other agencies, has been due to politics and Sawyer."

Says Sawyer Made Erroneous Statement
"I regret exceedingly that the name of the late president has been injected into this investigation, and it is my desire and intention to refrain from any mention of him except where it appears to be absolutely necessary to the production of the truth. But inasmuch as General Sawyer has appeared before this committee and made a wholly unauthorized and conscious statement concerning the cause of my resignation, I feel it my duty to state the facts briefly as follows:

"During the summer of 1922, after I had served something more than a year in my position, to break and I desired to retire. This desire, expressed not only to the president, but to many others, did not take definite form until toward the end of the year 1922, when it became perfectly apparent to me that it would be utterly impossible for me to continue to administer the law relating to the Veterans Bureau on account of the constant interference on the part of General Sawyer."

"In the month of December, 1922, and long before the president finally decided to issue his second temporary order stopping the delivery of goods at Perryville, I frankly told the president that I could not continue to serve in office and it became simply a choice between Sawyer and myself, and I believed the president of any possible embarrassment by tendering my resignation, the date of which he instantly deferred for sixty days beyond the date suggested by me for it to become effective."

Examined by his counsel, James S. Easley-Smith, Forbes told in more detail the story of what he termed the interference of General Sawyer in the operations of the Veterans Bureau. He quoted Sawyer as telling one inquirer:

"I am the Veterans Bureau. Come and see me."

Forbes also asserted that Sawyer "constantly opposed conferences of scientific consultants who came to Washington to assist in finding means in helping disabled veterans."

"He told me," Forbes added, "that he was going to see that homeopathic doctors had their findings."

"In one instance," he said, "Dr. Sawyer issued an order for reinstatement of a doctor that Forbes had ordered discharged. I asked where the general got his authority, the witness replied:

"He always claimed he had authority from the president."

Pressed for more special information Forbes said he would like to be excused from mentioning President Harding.

Sawyer Boss In Washington
"I can say freely," the witness said, "that Sawyer attempted to exercise more authority around Washington than any senator and he successfully got away with it."

Forbes added that when he protested to President Harding, the latter told him Sawyer was getting information for him.

Asked about political pressure, Forbes said there was both "outside and inside politics."

"Political pressure is brought to bear on individual cases," he added. "Political pressure in the interest of employees of the bureau. Political pressure was brought to bear for the purchase of property and 101 other things."

"Inside politics; that was just the men of the bureau working with the gang on the outside. This hindered and hampered my work."

Forbes testified that he had saved millions for the government "in re-vamping the dental situation, and changing the rehabilitation work. He asserted that many of those in vocational training were housed in mere shacks and that in many cases men were kept waiting for months for their help would go in for dramatics," he said. "They would ask for full dress suits and plug hats."

Forbes told the committee he believed the Veterans Bureau never would function effectively until there is a change in the system.

"There must be more than one man to direct its activities," he declared. "No one man in the world can handle that job. This should be an unbiased, non-political board to run it."

Recalling that he had been charged with over-liberality in dealing with the veterans, Forbes said he believed it was the intention of congress to give the benefit of the doubt to the former service men.

"Hospitalize them first and question them afterward," was his word, said Forbes. "There never was any secret about selection of hospital sites," the witness asserted, adding that most of the sites, including those at Northampton, Mass., St. Cloud, Minn., and Tupper Lake, N. Y., were gifts.

With respect to hospital construction Forbes declared that every award made by him was made "on the recommendation of the quarter master."

ter general of the army.

Taking up the contract for the hospital at Northampton, which figured largely in the testimony of Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, Forbes said speed in construction was an essential thing and that the award for the foundation was given to the Pontiac Company, of Detroit, because it agreed to accept the work in sixty days.

As to the contract for the hospital awarded to the Hurley-Mason Company, Forbes testified, and letters read into the record showed that the bids were opened in the war department and the recommendation that the award be made to the Hurley-Mason Company was prepared by a special board appointed to the quarter master general's division.

Forbes said he was present when the bids were opened and remarked that he liked the Hurley-Mason Company. He added that he told Colonel E. S. Walton, of the quarter master corps, that he once had been vice president of the Hurley-Mason Company and that before any decision as to the award was made there should be an inquiry as to whether he then held any interest, direct or indirect, in that company.

Denies Mortimer Charge
Forbes denied flatly that he ever had any conversation with Mortimer regarding the Tupper Lake contract or the contract for any other hospital. Mortimer had testified that a representative of the Southland Company had paid him $2,000 for using his influence with Forbes to get the contract for extra work at Tupper Lake.

It had come to his attention, Forbes said, that Mortimer was claiming to represent the Southland Company, and that he sent for William Sutherland and Mortimer and asked about it. Sutherland, the witness said, denied Mortimer was agent for his company in government work, but Mortimer claimed he was agent for the company in other work.

"The statement had been made to me by the department of justice," Forbes said, "that Mortimer was the social and professional bootlegger of Washington."

"Did you know he was a bootlegger when you were traveling around with him?" asked Senator Walsh.

"There were reports about it and I saw some indications," was the answer.

LOCAL NEWS

At the regular meeting of the Selby Superintendents and Foreman's Association Monday evening several splendid talks were made. Fire Chief Robert Leedom, Homer Selby and R. E. Cunningham, chief engineer at the Selby plant, made talks on fire prevention. Dr. C. L. Ferguson of the Selby factory gave a talk on his trip east several months ago during which time he visited large industrial plants where they have physicians employed to look after the health of their employees. He compared the service offered in these plants by that offered by the local company, showing that the Selby firm has a health organization that compares with the best of them. General Manager R. A. Selby had for the subject "Patrolling" and in his remarks he urged the members to patrol their own departments.

The music of the evening was furnished by Fred Lorey, who rendered a solo and then a parody on the menu, the musical score being the same as "Yes, We Have No Bananas Today." The song hit of the evening or the entire program was the selection by the "house" quartet, composed of such rock artists as Fred Bruce, Marion W. Brosch, Varner Altman and James Frazier.

NO FRIENDS AT ALL

DISCUSSING the matter of income tax, a contemporary puts forth the observation that this form of tribute is furiously unpopular in France and England, but it is no more meets with such objection in these United States. It is certainly mistaken. Disputes here must be greater than in either of those countries because in both the forms and the processes are established and certain. It is easier to reconcile to a certainty than an uncertainty. The unfortunate possessor of a substantial portion of the world's goods over there knows what he has got to pay and paying it that is the end of that. In this country, however, there is no definiteness and no fixity about an income return. The treasury rules one way on questions that come upon it, this year, and the next year rules entirely different. Worst of all it holds that nothing about it is ever settled. There are scores of instances in every city where it has come back to income payers and made them pay more, only have the matter brought up again and made to return more than it had collected the second time.

It is all right to talk about how criminal wealth attempts to defraud the government, but far more harrowing are the stories of where the great big government has descended upon a puny little individual and coerced him into paying tribute that wasn't a whit less than blackmail. Of course, the government wouldn't do this knowingly, but the government operates through individuals and these individuals are just as likely to be wrong just as likely to be scoundrels, as the more numerous individuals that pay taxes.

A BIT TOO SWEEPING

BISHOP WILLIAM F. ANDERSON, of Cincinnati, venerable head of the Methodist church in America, is a good man and able, but in a sermon Sunday in Maryland seems to have let his zeal carry him to an extreme. In this sermon he denounced Governor Ritchie, the only man to be twice elected executive of the great state of Maryland, as an anarchist and a traitor, applying to him those exact words and including in the category all those who voted for Ritchie.

The provocation offered by Governor Ritchie is a speech in which he advocated the repeal of the prohibition laws. In discussing the point he raises Bishop Anderson draws the distinction that it is all right to work for the repeal of a statutory law, but it's anarchy and treachery to advocate the repeal of a constitutional law. The distinction is not well taken. If true it would make every man and woman in the United States an anarchist and a traitor. All of us have been guilty of the offense that he says makes us such. A part voted for woman's suffrage, of which the Bishop was a valiant champion; another part voted for prohibition, which he also favored; yet another part voted for taking the word "white" out of the constitution, a remaining part and there are millions thereof, stand ready to vote to annul prohibition. All of these involve working against a constitutional law.

We would remind the good Bishop, that no law possesses inherent sanctity in itself, be it statutory, or constitutional. Either sort is but one man's order to another. The only virtue, the only efficacy, there is in a law of any sort is the power to compel its observance. No man, in conscience, is compelled to obey it because it is a law; only that it contains a moral principle. If it contains no such principle, he does not suffer any more than a liability to civil penalty in disregarding it. To hold otherwise is to make us all criminals, or else to the ignominy of confessing we are ignoramuses, for in some manner everyone breaks the law.

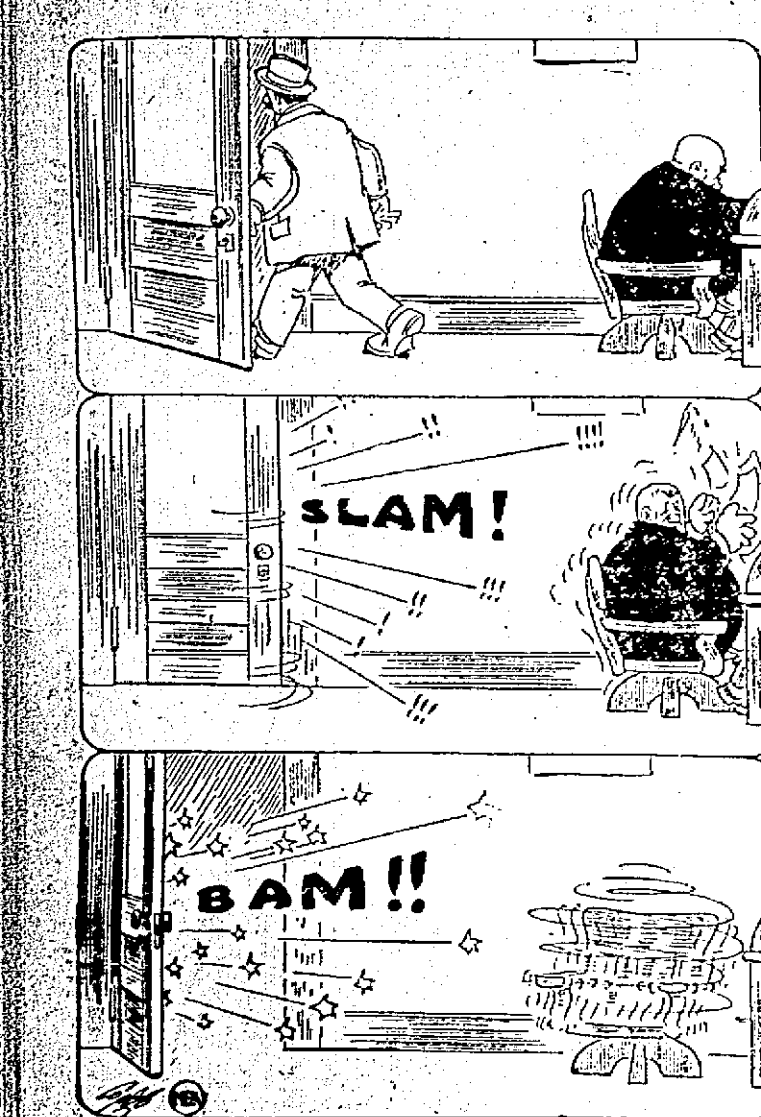

THE BUGABOO FORM 1040 A

THE treasury department has modified Form 1040 A, the infamous blank upon which citizens, whose income is $5,000 or less, make their returns. No longer will it hold the terrors in its simplified terms it did to those in its original countenance, when, after the sorely perplexed taxpayer had filled it out, he felt like he had swindled himself out of a fortune, or else was surely on his way to the penitentiary for perjury.

And so far so good. One good reform deserves another. If the treasury will adopt a rule that after a citizen has made a return and it had been approved, he shall not be haunted for ten or a hundred years hence by the specter that the government will come back and tell him it has discovered error in it and he will have to show it isn't there or suffer frightful penalties, then one can fare forth to make a fortune with less of anxiety in his heart.

EVERETT TRUE

BY CONDO

New York-Day-By-Day

BY G. C. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Broadway's brotherhood of street fakers has changed. Once it was the night haven for writers, artists, editors and a soupcon of sporting celebrities. Flat fights were not few and far between. They were nightly events. Now Jack's agents are to be frequented after midnight by rather timid folk who have heard about the place and sit about silent, and perhaps a little tremulously waiting for something to happen. The old-time carriage drivers who used to be out front have sought other stands. Some of the old-time waiters are gone, but a few remain. Manners, who know much of the old days, is there and regales visitors with stories of hard-living New York when rum was king in the Forties.

Not long ago I wrote an article for a Paris magazine comparing night life in Paris to that of New York. It had to be translated into French, which was done. I have received payment for the piece and am out $2 by the transaction. It cost $2 more to have the article translated than I received for writing it. Still, I expect compensation in sending marked copies of the article to friends, who will doubtless think I speak French fluently and am otherwise educated.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Oh, lovely thing that was woven last night.

Spanning an angle in an old dead tree.

Transforming to beauty its vacancy.

With your silken mesh in the morning light.

Weighted with shimmering jewels

more bright

Than ever mine from the depths of the sea;

Each shining and rounded, so

wondrously

Reflecting the blue with its flecks

of white.

Oh, ingenious weaver, who taught the art

Of your patterned exquisiteness?

Though small

And simple your loom, yet perfect

its part

You are the builder and artist and all!

One more of Nature's mysteries are you

As the opal globules that hold the dew.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

DIET

(By Berton Braley)

THE Fat Lady said,

"Well, of course, you may scoff.

I DO look overfed.

But I can take it off.

I eat like a fuy.

Yet I'm gath'ring, it seems."

(And she nibbled away

At some chocolate creams.)

FOR breakfast I munch

Naught but toast that is dry;

Only salad for lunch.

And no pastry or pie.

Yet I still put on weight—

It is Fate, so I judge.

(And she ate, she ate

Seven pieces of fudge.)

WELL, it only proves that

Though you scarce eat a crumb

If you're meant to be fat

It is fat you'll become."

(Then she sugared her tea,

While bewailing her fate,

And ate two plates or three

Of delicious cream.)
